Town of Middleton Swears In First Female Black Mayor

In a historic moment for the Town of Middleton, Gail Smith was officially sworn in November 5th as the Town's first black Mayor, and first woman to hold the chain of office. This achievement marks a significant milestone for the community, as the new mayor takes office with a commitment to fostering inclusivity, growth, and unity.

The swearing-in ceremony took place at the Middleton Fire Department, where residents, community partners, and public figures gathered to witness the ceremony. Mayor Smith expressed gratitude to the people of Middleton for entrusting her with the responsibility of leading the community. "I am deeply honored to be the first woman of Black descent to serve as Mayor of this incredible town," said Mayor Smith. "I look forward to working with staff, residents and community partners to create a Middleton that everyone is proud to live in."

Mayor Smith brings a wealth of experience to her new role, having served on Town Council for over 13 years, with the past 4 years as Deputy Mayor. She also sat on several Town committees including the Police Advisory Board, the Planning Advisory Board, Audit Committee and Community Centre Fire Hall Committee. Mayor Smith also has a history of volunteering in the community - she sits on the MacDonald Museum Advisory Board and volunteers with the local black community. Prior to serving on Council, Mayor Smith worked as a Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) at Soldiers Memorial Hospital in Middleton. She is known for her dedication to public service, her collaborative approach to leadership, and her passion for addressing the unique challenges faced by Middleton's diverse population.

The Mayor's top priorities include:

- Public Safety: Working with the RCMP to improve police presence in Town and reduce crime and vandalism.
- Housing and Development: Strengthening the local economy by supporting small businesses and attracting new housing developments to the town.
- Community Engagement: Ensuring that every voice is heard, particularly from underrepresented groups, and fostering a sense of belonging and shared purpose.

Mayor Smith will be joined in office by Deputy Mayor Gary Marshall, and the newly elected Town Council members, Jonathan Archibald, John Bartlett, Sandra Fournier, Bernadette Knapp and Dan Smith. Deputy Mayor Gary Marshall states "I am honored to serve as Deputy Mayor and look forward to working with Mayor Smith, all members of Council, staff and residents to continue making Middleton a great place to work and live." The newly elected Council convenes its first official meeting on Monday November 18th.

New Economic Development Coordinator for Annapolis Royal, Middleton & Annapolis County

Daniela Siggia-Beasant is the new Economic Development Coordinator for Annapolis Royal, Middleton, and Annapolis County. Daniela brings a heartfelt commitment to fostering sustainable growth, supporting local businesses and creating opportunities for everyone across the region.

Her philosophy is simple: economies only work if they work for everyone. As our communities continue to recover post-COVID, there is a need for thoughtful, well-planned growth that ensures our area remains a wonderful place to build businesses and raise families. A strong, resilient economy is the foundation for vibrant, thriving communities. Daniela is eager to hear from businesses, community groups, and faith organizations about how we can enrich our communities together. Your input is key to shaping the future. (from the Annapolis Royal Town Crier)

Editor's Note: The three municipalities have established a Working Group "to look for ways to collaborate more effectively on service delivery, infrastructure, operations, marketing and promotion, communications, short and long-term planning, economic and community development, advocacy with provincial and federal governments, taxation strategies, and financial stewardship", according to Annapolis Royal Mayor Amery Boyer.

Talk to your councillor or other local representatives to provide your ideas on local development.

The Annapolis Community Pool and the Town of Annapolis Royal are pleased to announce that our liner has been replaced, our facility upgrades have been completed, and we are leak free!

We recently met with Town Representatives, our Town Crier, and our friends from Good Beginnings Daycare to celebrate the completion of this project! The Town's generous grant of $38,000 has been instrumental to our work and we thank them for this financial support and all the help and guidance they've given to our efforts this year. Thank you to our thousands of supporters and well-wishers.

Pool construction completed in part by the following companies: RECA VINYL WORKS, Brown Brothers Excavating, Evangeline Excavators, and Water and Ice North America via their Enfield office. Special thanks to Rob & crew at Home Hardware, Danny & crew at McClair's Holdings and Jeff Hafting.

Sat. Nov. 23, 1-3:00pm Please join us for a book signing with local author Cate Wilding, at Endless Shores Books, 279 Granville St. Bridgetown. Here's what Cate has said about why she writes: "I write because I love it! The process can be tireless at times but the thrill of having the characters appear in my mind and tell me the story they're living minute by minute is amazing. I type what I visualize and what I'm told, the characters are the real creators here. I wrote my first short story "Finest Hour" at 48 years old for WISH Magazine. The thrill of seeing my story in print was indescribable. It was a slow beginning to what would turn out to be the creation of my first novel in 2017 called Christof's. I was now on a wonderful journey which I would love and respect. The most difficult part for me was learning this process was going to take its time, and I finally accepted that fact. Now I'm thrilled to have completed three novels... Christof's, A Life Remembered and Secret, with a fourth novel currently in editing. For anyone who has thought about writing a story, poem, or novel but wasn't sure they could do it, my advice is to go for it!" So drop in and have a chat with Cate and check out her books.

Letter to the Editor

My favourite hymn since childhood has always been, "All things bright and beautiful all creatures great and small". It was written by William Monk in 1887 and tells the story of all the wonders of the wild world we are blessed with, "the tall trees in the Greenwood, "the river rushing by", "each little flow'r that opens, each little bird that sings". This is a perfect description of what can be found in the Goldsmith Lake Wilderness Area just minutes from Bridgetown.

In a recent edition of the Reader #43, the folks at SOOF ( Save Our Old Forests ) submitted an Open Letter to the Premier to take action to protect 20% of Nova Scotia Land and Water by 2030. SOOF proposes setting the Goldsmith Lake Wilderness Area aside and to include this jewel of the valley as a perfect candidate for protection. I am all for it. Nature needs intact habitat to thrive and old growth forests provide. Nova Scotia has only 1% of what are considered old growth forests left and the Goldsmith Lake Wilderness Area is a perfect fit for protection, don't you think? Sincerely, G. Kenny

Zac Brown Double Tribute

(live performance) Attending a show paying tribute to the greats – Alabama and Zac Brown – is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. To enjoy note-for-note covers of their mega hits goes beyond nostalgia. It's like you're re-living the moments or seeing the bands perform live.

Mountain Music and Chicken Fried feature Grammy Award-Winning Artists Alabama and Zac Brown respectively, in one tribute show. The kind of bands for which fans could spend hours in the queue for a front-row spot and admirers could catch their matchless vibe by merely watching on screen.

Mountain music is a much-needed tribute to Alabama. The band sold 75 million albums with over 40 #1 hit songs. The band had its most significant success in the 1980s, with over 27 top hits, seven multi-platinum albums, and over 200 awards. They also received a Hollywood Star on the walk of fame. The blue-collar southern rock guitar, the fiddle, and all the hits are part of the show.

Chicken Fried is North America's Most Celebrated Tribute to The Zac Brown Band. Zac Brown is one of the sharpest minds in today's generation of artists. The band has released six studio albums, two live albums, one greatest-hits album, and two extended plays. The band has sold millions of records and charted sixteen singles with thirteen #1 hits. Wed. Nov. 20, 7:00pm Lee (film, 14A) Lee, the directorial feature from award-winning Cinematographer Ellen Kuras, portrays a pivotal decade in the life of American war correspondent and photographer, Lee Miller (Kate Winslet). Miller's singular talent and unbridled tenacity resulted in some of the 20th century's most indelible images of war, including an iconic photo of Miller herself, posing defiantly in Hitler's private bathtub. Miller had a profound understanding and empathy for women and the voiceless victims of war. Her images display both the fragility and ferocity of the human experience. Above all, the film shows how Miller lived her life at full-throttle in pursuit of truth, for which she paid a huge personal price, forcing her to confront a traumatic and deeply buried secret from her childhood. Tickets: Adults $10.95, Youth $6.95.
